

Andrejus Račkovskis

Andrejus Račkovskis graduated from Vilnius Pedagogical University (later known as Lithuanian Educational Sciences University), where he obtained a master's degree in humanities (philology) in 1997. Since then, he has been working at the Department of Foreign Languages of Vilnius Business College (Vilniaus verslo kolegija), which he also led for a long time. Areas of responsibility: coordination of the study process, development and continuous improvement of study programmes, internal quality assessment, organisation of conferences and training events, and lecturing. He has also authored a number of teaching tools and resources for higher and adult education. Andrejus has participated in the expert evaluation of several study programmes in Lithuania.