Dainius Jasaitis

Dainius Jasaitis took a Bachelor's degree in Physics at Lithuanian University of Educational Sciences in 2001. He obtained a Master's Degree at Vilnius Gediminas Technical University in 2001. In 2007 he defended doctoral thesis and received PhD in Technological Sciences at the Department of Physics of Vilnius Gediminas Technical University.

Dainius Jasaitis has been working at the Faculty of Fundamental Sciences of Vilnius Gediminas Technical University since 2003. In 2011 he became an associate professor and in 2018 – professor at the Department of Physics. Since 2012 Member of Faculty Council.

From 2014 to 2015 he was head of the Radiation Research Laboratory, from 2015 to 2018 – served as a head of Laboratory of the Photovoltaic technology. Since 2018 he is the head of Physics Department.

Dainius Jasaitis participates in various expert activities, leads projects and research works, is a member of various commissions and working groups.