

Doc. dr. Sigita Urbonienė

Assoc. Prof. dr. Sigita Urbonienė obtained bachelor's and master's degree in Mathematics from Vytautas Magnus University. In 2007 she defended doctoral dissertation in the area of Physical Sciences in the field of Mathematics at Vilnius Gediminas Technical University. Since 2001 she has been working at Vytautas Magnus University Faculty of Informatics, since 2008 she is the vice-dean of the Faculty of Informatics, since 2009 – Associated professor of the Department of Mathematics and Statistics. In 2010 she was awarded the pedagogical title of associate professor. S. Urbonienė regularly participates in international conferences and internships abroad, carries out active scientific and project activities, participates in mathematic teachers training and retraining programs. She has participated in the groups for preparation of self-analysis of external evaluation of study programs several times, is a member of various working groups of Vytautas Magnus University and was also a member of the group preparing the description of the Mathematics field. Since 2009 S. Urbonienė is a member of the board of the association "VMU IF Alumni Association", a member of the Lithuanian Mathematical Society.